Empowering the School Community

SOS reaches the people students are most likely to turn to in a time of crisis – their friends. All students are equipped to ACT if they are experiencing a behavioral health crisis or are thinking about suicide. Teachers and school staff also receive training to support students in need while reaching out to parents and community members as partners in prevention.
Peer Innovations Proposal

• BHRS Innovations Grant

• MCOE, Peer Wellness Ambassadors in grades 6-12 in all Marin County schools.

• Ambassadors receive training in wellness and mental health and tools to connect peers with resources (eg., Mental Health First Aid).

• Helps address mental health capacity both short and long term

• Be more unified in our collective approach

• MCOE Wellness Coordinator to implement across districts and students

• Focus on underserved student populations (eg., newcomers, LGBTQ, students of color)

• Enhance and foster a Community of Practice among those are doing this work and others who may not be doing this work

• Three year grant; start with five schools and then expand.

• Share lessons learned among cohorts
